Preferred Citation

Citizens' Child Welfare Study Committee reports, Rare Books and Manuscripts, Indiana State Library

Administrative History

The Citizens' Child Welfare Study Committee issued three reports in June, 1947 concerning the state of needs and social services for children and young adults in public schools, the police department, and juvenile court in Marion County, Indiana.

---

Scope and Contents

---

This collection comprises four reports from the Citizens' Child Welfare Study Committee in 1947 regarding the needs and services provided for children and young adults in Marion County, particularly in the legal and educational systems. The "Survey Report of the Juvenile Aid Division, Indianapolis Police Department" provides statistics of arrests from 1938 to 1946, descriptions of facilities, and recommendations for changes. The "Survey Report of The Marion County Juvenile Court and The Juvenile Center" and "Survey Report of Social Service, Public Schools" likewise offer information on the contemporary state of affairs and recommendations for improvements. The final report reports the needs for child welfare in Marion County, including weekly food allowances, rent, and clothing distribution.
